— FOR SECRETARY OF STATE —

Hello Jack,

I know this fight is long and tough, but there is no end to Democrat corruption and fraud in Arizona. It was never going to be an easy fight.

I wanted to take a moment to remind ourselves with a few “flashbacks” of what Republicans like you and me have been victims of over just the last few months.

If you were like millions of Americans on Election Day, you watched Arizona as there were once again, large majorities of voting machines that didn't work, horror stories of voters having to change voting locations multiple times to just cast their vote, voters being turned away from the polls, or voters having their votes shoveled away in mysterious boxes that were seemingly never counted?

Yeah, that was just the beginning.

Flashback #1: Remember when Katie Hobbs threatened government officials to force them to certify a fraudulent election?

Remember the time in Mohave County, Arizona where @GovernorHobbs had a government official threatened with arrest for not certifying a fortified election?

If you remember, originally Mohave County Board of Supervisors refused to certify what was an obviously fraudulent election. This was until Ron Gould was forced to vote for certification “under duress,” in his own words.

Katie Hobbs immediately after the election was more than happy to wield her power to leverage corrupt and activist courts against anyone who wanted a transparent election. Ron Gould was just one of the victim’s of Fontes and Hobbs’ wanton corruption and fraud.

Flashback #2: Remember when it was leaked that Hobbs’ team worked with Twitter to get those she disagreed with BANNED from Twitter?

It was leaked that Katie Hobbs office of Secretary of State was coordinating with Twitter to have those who disagreed with her politically removed from Twitter.

Do you know who else was removed from Twitter? I was. A week before the election. Fortunately, Elon Musk helped bring me back, but what do you think the probability is that Katie Hobbs, who has been known to do this before, had any level of responsibility in getting the Republican seeking to replace her office banned?

I would wager that number is pretty close to 100%, though it has not been proven yet.

Flashback #3: Remember when activist courts refused to let evidence be shown in court?

Kari Lake’s trial was dismissed after TWO DAYS of time in court.

My trial was dismissed without my evidence being able to see the light of day in court. And now they are trying to punish all of us with sanctions for wanting transparent elections.

Right now, Hobbs and Fontes are getting away with historically unimaginable levels of fraud, and the courts are refusing to look at the evidence. Help us fight back against the activist courts!
