Subject: Breaking: Is this the smoking gun?

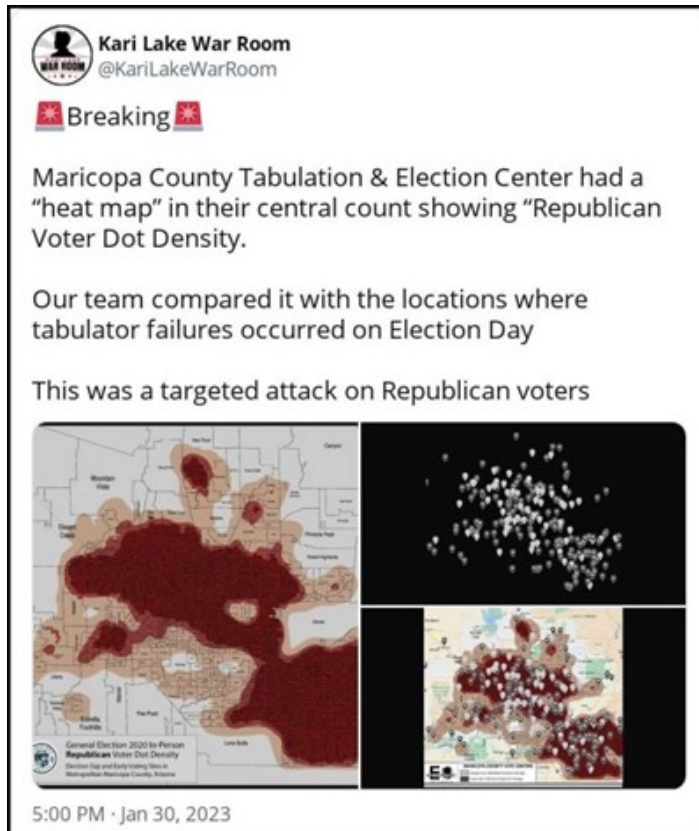

Hello Jack,

I told you the evidence just keeps piling on of the fraud in the 2022 election.

A stunning data drop just provided irrefutable evidence of what we all already knew to be true.

Tabulator Failures on Election Day were directly targeted at Conservatives.

Don't believe me? Check this map out:

This data speaks for itself. When each of the dots on the map represents a failed tabulator in the state, and the red part of the map is Republican, and almost all of the dots on the map are in the red area, what does that tell you?

Either a billion-to-one coincidence happened, or this was orchestrated from the beginning.

Unlike how the Fake News Media Portrays us, Conservatives actually have brains and we won't stand for this.

This is why Kari Lake and I are continuing the fight for Election Integrity in Arizona. We are fighting against the corruption, the fraud, the corrupt court, and the punitive sanctions that they are trying to levy on us for standing up for Election Transparency.

I know this fight has been a long one, but you have to understand – this is a game the Democrats have been playing for YEARS in Arizona. We can't let them win because we stop[ed] just short of the finish line of getting fraud OUT of our great state.
