

The Ultimate War: Globalism vs. America

Presented by Michael Shaw

Opening session:

The War: Globalism vs. America

I grew up in Orange County, California. When I was 10 Nikita Khrushchev visited Disneyland and said "We will bury you (America) without firing a shot". Later in the year (1959) he repeated this statement at the United Nations while slamming his shoe on the table. I thought he was nuts!

Yet today America is falling. We have not experienced a military invasion. Why are we falling? What is that Khrushchev knew that Americans have not yet figured out or acknowledged?

Private property is under attack. Americans no longer feel confident that government secures the protection of their property. Instead, policies are being implemented, through our American government, which actually attacks the idea of private property. Globalist philosophy has swarmed all branches and all levels of American government. Is there a connection between globalism and the loss of our rights?

Our leaders who are working for their own seat at the international table have convoluted the interpretation of the American Constitution. At the core, these Globalists seek to negate the political recognition of an individual's unalienable rights – one's natural right to life, liberty and property.

There is a massive fifth column operating throughout our government, supported by a huge and well funded network of Non Governmental Organizations (NGOs) that work to localize the globalist political movement. NGO's are organizations which are accredited by the United Nations for purposes of implementing the globalist Action plan labeled "Agenda 21, Sustainable Development".

Remember the expression "Think Globally; Act Locally"? That call was to prepare the advance of Agenda 21 troops. And the call has been woven throughout society.

Today, whether you know it or not, we are in a smart growth bastion within a Wildlands Network zone. Increasingly, the lands are being put "Off Limits" Your elected officials make this possible by accepting supposed globalist consensus.

The American Wildlands Network may sound or look benign but what you will discover are vast expanses of land with interconnecting corridors between them which are designed to take control of the land and power over all of us.

As you will see later are that these expanses and corridors are throughout the country. They are now coming into formation.

What I am going to do today is to define and illustrate how globalism works to sublimate the foundation of the American experiment. This sublimation is planned to occur through implementation of a global to Local Action Plan referred to as Agenda 21, often times called Sustainable Development, which I will explain.

Later today, I will give more illustrations of how the United Nations' Agenda 21 has invaded the state of Colorado. I will conclude by suggesting what it is that you can do to expose and ultimately reverse this anti-American curse that is swarming Denver, this state, all of the west and the entire country.

The Globalist attack:

- i. The battlefield of the modern World War is over the political recognition of unalienable rights. For example, judicial recognition and protection of the right to the use and enjoyment of property has been largely abandoned.

Prohibitive zoning, open space mandates, resource extraction limitations, conservation easements and use prohibitions coupled with enforcement provisions of such things as the Endangered Species Act are all designed to chip away at the idea of private property. The ESA often nullifies a land owner's natural right to the beneficial use of property. The courts have enabled massive legislative takings of property use.

America cannot stand if the idea of private property is not protected. As G. Washington said, "Private property and freedom are inseparable".

The United Nations and the Globalists' position on individual land ownership are clear: Land is to be held or controlled by government and its partners, not individuals.

- ii. There is an organized Globalist assault on the individual and upon the system of government that supports individual rights.

Global organizations such as the World Bank and the World Trade Organization have taken control over our nation's trade policy.

Multinational corporations work with global political organizations to establish a unified global economic system of distribution that works to implement the stated goal set forth in the Earth Charter. That goal is: "to equalize wealth within and between nations". Can a nation remain sovereign if it has bequeathed its trade policy to foreign entities, in the name of globalism?

The 20th century saw a continuum of action designed to lead us to where we are. Through the formation of the UN and the internationalist organizations like the World Bank, the World Trade Organization and the Bank of International Settlements, an infrastructure for world government has been established. We are now within the grasp of global governance. Today, this is euphemistically referred to as “change”. Obama may seek to pound in the final nail.

Why has individual liberty and national sovereignty steadily eroded? One reason is because both political parties have supported nationalized education policies that increasingly have indoctrinated youth into accepting “global citizenship”.

Until recently, most Americans thought we could simply “throw the bums out’ when the federal government got off track and elect the other party. But that is not working.

Both parties have spent America to the verge of dollar oblivion; they both support essential tenants of Globalism; meaning they both support the United Nation’s action plan for world government known as “Agenda 21”, the Agenda for the 21st century. Agenda 21 is also known as “Sustainable Development” which uses environmental ‘protection’ as its excuse for transforming our systems of government and economics.

What is Agenda 21?

Agenda 21 is a document that outlines the implementation of Sustainable Development, which is a comprehensive plan for the restructure of society and the remake of man. After nearly 20 years of implementation, I can report that Sustainable Development policy is now pursued in every county in the country!

Agenda 21 is a comprehensive plan of action to be taken globally, nationally and locally by organizations of the United Nations System, Governments, and Major Groups in every area in which human impacts on the environment.

Agenda 21, the Rio Declaration on Environment and Development, and the Statement of principles for the Sustainable Management of Forests were adopted by more than 178 Governments at the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development (UNCED) held in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, 3 to 14 June 1992.

The Commission on Sustainable Development (CSD) was created in December 1992 to ensure effective follow-up of UNCED, to monitor and report on implementation of the agreements at the local, national, regional and international levels. It was agreed that a five year review of Earth Summit progress would be made in 1997 by the United Nations General Assembly meeting in special session.

The 55th General Assembly session decided in December 2000 that the CSD would serve as the central organizing body for the 2002 World Summit on Sustainable Development, which will be held in Johannesburg, South Africa.

Agenda 21, Sustainable Development is the modern battle field over future political-economics and more.

- i. Despite its appearance as an environmental movement, Agenda 21 incorporates decades of U.N. world governance policies. Agenda 21 was arranged for and disseminated at the Rio de Janeiro UN Earth Summit in 1992.

- ii. 178 nations signed on including George Bush, the father, signing on behalf of the United States.
- iii. The last 4 presidents have made implementation of Agenda 21 the quiet cornerstone of their administrations.
- iv. The Department of State reports to the UN our progress at implementation

Sustainable Development is an Action plan for the implementation of a controlled society.

The Plan is not conjecture. It is laid out in three documents.

1. Agenda 21: the global plan. This is my County's plan - the Santa Cruz County "local" version of Agenda 21. (props) In Colorado, the focus is on the implementation of the Wildlands Network. What are Wildlands? Explain.
2. The Global Biodiversity Assessment Report (1150 pages). To save the environment this official document calls for a reduction of human population to 1 billion people. In the alternative, according to the U.N., a population comprised of "peasants" may be designed that would allow, 4 – 5 billion people.
3. The Earth Charter was authored by Steven Rockefeller, Maurice Strong and Mikhail Gorbachev and is taught in American schools. They have all said that Earth Charter is to replace the 10 Commandments. Do you suppose these three characters climbed a mountain and had the Earth Charter delivered to them by God?

I'm going to share a Freedom Advocates tool for showing the 'warm and fuzzy' terms that arise regularly. These terms reveal Agenda 21 operating in your neighborhood!

Defining and describing Sustainable Development:

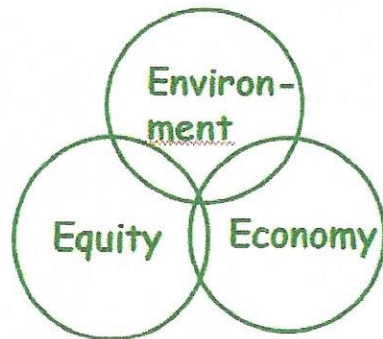

The first time the term 'Sustainable Development' was used was by Woodrow Wilson while he was President. There is no loss of irony that the man who brought us the Federal Reserve, the income tax, the League of Nations and the war to end all wars would introduce to America the concept, which today, is a synonym for world governance.

Tenets of Agenda 21: Supporters of Agenda 21 use a mantra reflected by the “three E” pattern:

The Three Es represent a summarization of Agenda 21’s blueprint.

The often repeated Three E concept looks and works like this:

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

The 3 E's of Sustainable Development

- Environment
 - Nature before man
- Equity
 - Use sociology and the law to reengineer humanity
- Economy
 - International redistribution of America's wealth
 - Replacement of free enterprise with government/business partnerships

Equity involves the replacement of the American system of equal justice with the globalist concept of social justice.

Sustainable Development Minor

Sustainable Development is an interdisciplinary minor with courses in sustainability and environmental studies from departments and colleges across the university. Courses emphasize experiential, project-based service learning. The minor is designed to prepare students for the challenges and obligations of the 21st century, specifically by contributing to UCCS and local organizations on issues relating to the environment and social equity, promoting economic vitality, and recognizing civic responsibilities both at home and abroad.

Sustainable development, often defined as "meeting the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs" (Brundtland 1987), is achieved by paying equal attention to issues of environmental impact, social equity, and economic prosperity. Education for sustainability is an imperative for colleges and universities; so much so, that the United Nations has named 2005-2015 the Decade of Education for Sustainable Development. Because universities are an integral part of the global economy/community, we have a fundamental responsibility to teach, train and conduct research for sustainability - creating a framework for addressing environmental, social, and economic factors. We believe the success of higher education in the future will be judged in part by our ability to put forth a bold agenda, making sustainable development a cornerstone of our academic and administrative practices.

Expected outcomes of students who complete the Sustainable Development minor are listed below:

- Identify core concepts and critiques of sustainable development,
- Describe interconnections between community structures and influences on the environment,
- Examine environmental, economic, and social aspects of sustainability from multiple academic disciplines,
- Understand the disciplinary overlap of sustainability issues and approach holistic real-world problems from diverse perspectives,
- Critically read, evaluate, and discuss sustainable development literature,
- Demonstrate knowledge of the ever-increasing scholarship within the sustainable development literature.

It is important to understand Agenda 21 is not a left vs. right fight.

The left and the right leadership work in what I call an 'artificial dialectic'. An artificial dialectic is where an arranged thesis is contrasted with an arranged antithesis in order to produce a predetermined synthesis.

Implementation of Agenda 21 comes through bi-partisanship. Our need is to understand how both sides of the political spectrum contribute to the Globalist Action Plan.

That brings us to an analysis of the philosophy of rights that we can live with

WHICH PHILOSOPHY OF RIGHTS?

Nature Source	Individual Rights US Declaration of Independence	Community rights UN Declaration of Human Rights
Purpose of Government	Protect the natural or unalienable rights of each individual. "That all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights ..."	Control the individual for the greater good of a global community. "Rights and freedoms may in no case be exercised contrary to the purposes and principles of the United Nations..."
In short	You're born with rights, government exists to protect them. You and the product of your labor belong to you.	Government grants, restricts, or withdraws your rights according to its needs. You and the product of your labor belong to the community.

There are three broad principles that underlie Agenda 21:

- The step by step program for the abolition of private property
- Education for global citizenship. Do you think the notion of unalienable rights is presented in today's schools? We have already seen the focus of universities in building a fifth column army of young college graduates. For even younger people there are the policies and assessments of No Child Left Behind... All geared to neuter the next generations understanding of liberty and of the American experience.
- The third driving principle of Agenda 21 is: Control over human action. For instance, we see technological advances used by government to monitor the individual. We see this happening through federal legislation that would direct biometric identification of you displayed on your state driver's license, the advent of cameras everywhere, and government accessible data bases that have everything about you that you now think is private.

I will focus my comments on the effort to abolish private property, concerning land. First, what is private property?

Private property; includes your person, your thoughts and your relationship to some thing. By relationship I mean the power to use and enjoy that thing.

Private property can only exist where unalienable rights are recognized. America is the only place where, only if for a brief shining moment, unalienable rights have been politically recognized. Now they are being ignored.

Agenda 21 has two land use programs. They are called Smart Growth and the Wildlands Network. Let me explain them with the help of this map....

Mayor Hickenlooper is a typical big city mayor who is fully committed to Smart Growth.

The Yukon to the Yucatan is a continental example that provides a backbone to the Wildlands system. The same principles are being deployed throughout the US.

Their Plan for Your Land

This graphic from www.wildlandsproject.org/reconnected, shows The Wildland Project's (TWP) plan for U.S. lands. Arrowed sections would be set aside for large carnivores which would require, of course, the removal of people. TWP wants to 're-wild' 50% of the country. Years ago, this was viewed by most people as a 'pipe dream' and those who exposed it were thought to be paranoid extremists. Today, it is incremental becoming reality as government acquires lands and stops activities on private lands in the targeted areas.

NORTH AMERICAN WILDWAYS

The graphic above is one of many maps from The Wildlands Project (TWP) website that show TWP's plan for our country. The wide arrowed areas show lands that TWP wants set aside for animals, especially reintroduced large predators. (The prairie lands that such organizations want to dedicate to buffalo are not included in this graphic.) TWP's website has maps for various areas and asserts:

RESOURCE ROUNDUP

Yukon to Yucatan

Proponents of The Wildlands Project (TWP) (the plan to 're-wild' 50% of the United States) are beginning their propaganda push to secure vast areas of the continental United States from the Yukon in Alaska to Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula as a migration corridor for grizzly bears and wolves. Of particular concern are five areas it considers especially threatening to wildlife, like Interstate 70 through central Colorado and I-40 east of Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Jan Clanahan, TWP regional director, asserts that large carnivores need the space that humans now occupy. "It's a big plan... call it a 100-year vision," she said. "The first step is, you need to get out there and talk to everyone... (w)e're talking to (federal) agencies, the landowners, other conservation groups, local community leaders." Clanahan hopes the blueprint influences the planning of the U.S. Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management.

The Wildlands Project is a radical plan. Its website states; "It is not enough to preserve the roadless, undeveloped country remaining. We must re-create wilderness in large regions: move out the cars and civilized people, dismantle the roads and dams, reclaim the plowed land and clearcuts, re-introduce extirpated species."

The Y to Y corridor stretches the length of this continent. Landowners to the west of here will be particularly pulverized. But private property is being abolished everywhere.

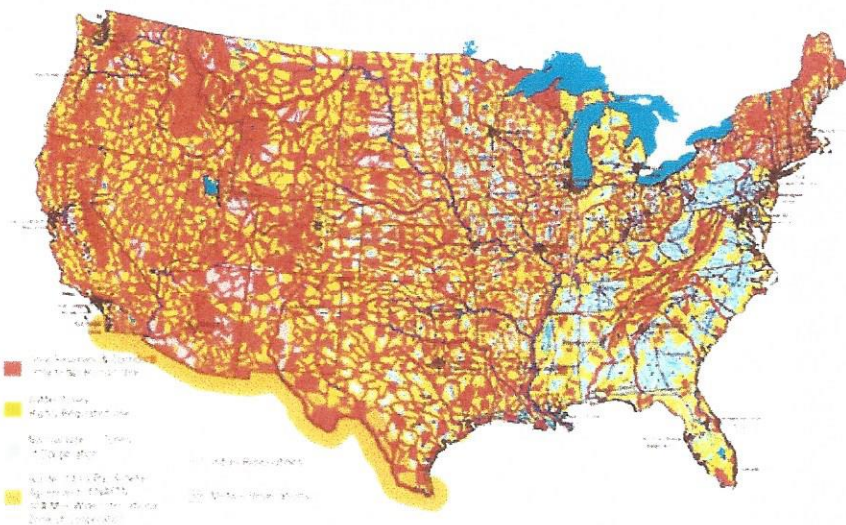

Proposed legislation to fully incorporate the Y to Y goals has failed to pass in Washington State thanks to the initiative of some informed Washington State people.

Legislators in Colorado need to become informed and reformed or replaced soon.

The globalist political –economic onslaught happening inside America has been because the West’s resource base has been grabbed-up and locked-down.

Dr Michael Coffman has said that “According to hundreds of NGO documents what is happening in the Northern Rockies will eventually happen across America”.

Biodiversity and Wildlands Project - USA

The entire Rockies are scheduled to become Wildlands as indicated by yellow and red in this map.

Modern American government tramples the Constitution while ushering world governance as it gains greater control over the American land mass.

The Wildlands Network is a violation of Article 1 (Legislative Branch) Sec 8 (legislative powers) of the US Constitution:

1. How does the federal government justify owning much of Colorado and the rest of the West's land mass?
2. Why does the federal government direct management on most of the rest of the western landscape?
3. The Department of the Interior – how did that monster arise? What is the Constitutional rationale? There is none.

There is no Constitutional authority for Congressional land management.

Constitutional authority for land ownership, is set out in Article 1 Section 8: Congress has: "...Authority over all places purchased by consent of the legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the Erection of Forts, Magazines, Arsenals, dock-Yards and other needful buildings." There is no mention of the Rocky Mountains, The Department of Interior or "Wildlands" management!

There is no authorization for the various federal forest ownership or contemporary Wildlands bills that have been processed by Congress.

Who is Congress working for?

Remember government powers are granted under the Constitution— they cannot just be taken by a narrow mob, with political front men, seeking power and control over resources.

A second major attack on the Constitution is the Congress's delegation of its responsibility over trade policy.

Congress has delegated authority over U.S. trade policy to the World Trade Organization and to various multi lateral trade pact organizations. This necessarily comes at the expense of sovereignty. The effects of surrendering trade policy control include:

- A disintegrating border; Example: NAFTA agreement – 124 mile wide “International Zone of Cooperation”
- Constitutional taxing authority (Article 1 Section 9) becomes neutered. The Constitutionally intended form of taxation – import and excise duties are lost to the World Trade Organization’s so-called “free trade” requirements. It is not free trade that is being established; it is a managed global trade control exercised over America. This policy is designed to economically equalize nations in accordance with Earth Charter mandate to equalize wealth within and between nations. Managed Free Trade is designed to implement the Agenda 21 directive to effectively institutionalize multinational corporate economic control in partnership with world government agencies and in accordance with globalist directives.

More directly, the surrender of trade policy is designed to neuter American sovereignty.

The modern trade regime results in manufacturing jobs loss starting with a shuttling of resource extraction. The consequence has been: production leaves the US; finished goods are then imported, often from slave labor nations, always concentrating wealth into the hands of global business partners of prospective world government. Prince Charles established the Sustainable Business Council with major multinational businesses. Globalist corporate coordination has occurred.

The Sustainable problem is more than green.

One other major breach of Article 1 Section 8: - The Establishment of Central Banking within a world system of Central Banking – the indispensable ingredient for creating World Government. Congress has no authority to delegate an exclusive monetary system authority to a third party. That is what happens when a Central Bank like the Federal Reserve is formed. This accounts for at least the financial aspect of the dilemma we face.

The existence of Central Banks, like the Federal Reserve, allow for the printing of the money necessary to fund the globalist movement and accounted for as debt owing from us. It is designed to cause a financial collapse. Central Banks are particularly dangerous given that they are coordinated on top through the Bank of International Settlements.

Remember when American youth were taught that it was a good thing that power was not centralized and coordinated? Oh, I wish it were that way!

- It needs to become that way!
- Restore the American Republic not a 15th Century landscape!
- Expose Sustainable Development.

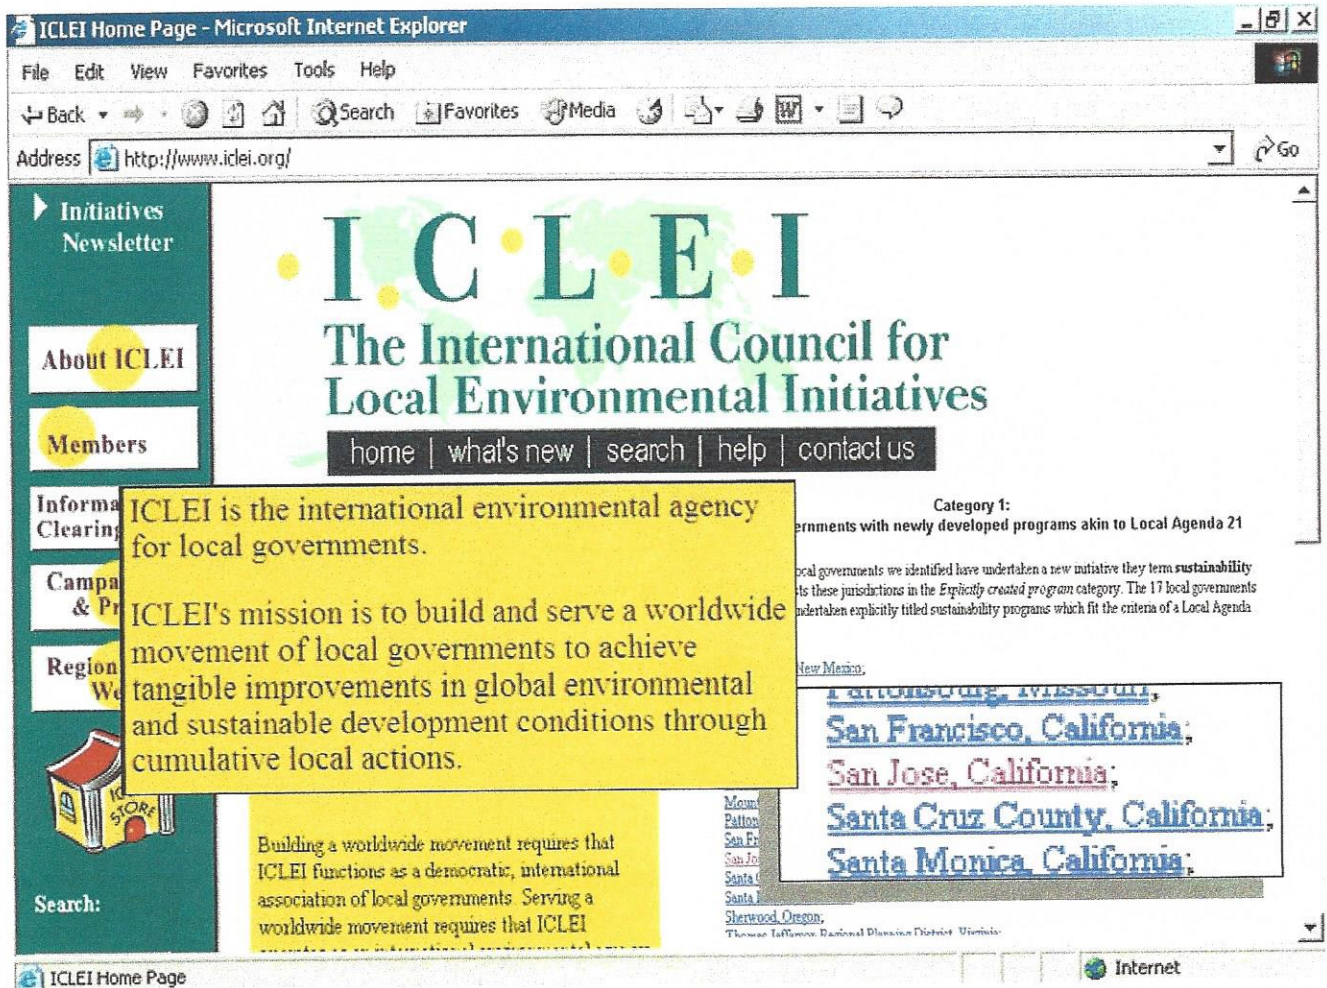

Closing session:

Attacking the Root:

- How does Agenda 21 affect you locally?
- What you need to know to help turn the tide,
- How to recognize the patterns and tenants of Agenda 21 and
- What you can do...

ICLEI

This is the most vulnerable globalist organization operating in America today.

Full name is “The International Council for Local Environmental Initiatives”. It is also called “Local Governments for Sustainability”. ICLEI is an important NGO that:

- Closely ties policy to man-made Global Warming and climate change;

- Has formed an international Congress filled with your city representatives that act as a shadow World Government.

Local tax funds pay the contract fee. Globalist policy-making is fully invaded upon ICLEI's arrival. 600 cities nationwide have ICLEI contracts.

Each ICLEI city's influence is expanded as ICLEI then automatically steers Regional Air, and Water Boards, and many other "regional" transformational governance apparatus.

ICLEI HUBS

ICLEI cities in Colorado include: Arvada, Aspen, Breckenridge, Carbondale, Denver, Durango, Fort Collins, Golden, Garrison County, La Plata County, Loveland, Manitou, San Miquel County, Snowmass Village, and Westlake.

Discuss Article 1 section 10 prohibitions: "No state shall enter into any Treaty, Alliance or Confederation" Neither may a city. Ask: Is contracting with ICLEI treasonous – at least in spirit? I think so. In any event contracts with ICLEI guarantee implementation of globalist political and economic policy. Drive city alliances with ICLEI out of Colorado!

Let's turn directly to Denver:

Sustainable Development pretends to have something for everybody. It does have something in mind for humanity. Sustainable Development is an economic system of public private partnership. Public private partnership is the economic foundation for establishing the slave society living under the principles mandated by the policies of world governance.

Mussolini called this same economic system Corporatism and the world learned it as economic fascism.

Now I want to show an example of the myriad Smart Growth initiatives that combine with local Action forces that implement land use policy right in Denver.

IGERT Programs Nationwide

IGERT grants are awarded by NSF to innovative graduate programs in US universities for training PhD scientists and engineers with the interdisciplinary background and the technical, professional and personal skills needed to address global questions of the future. The IGERT program is aimed at establishing innovative new models for graduate education, training and collaborative research that transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries. It is also intended to facilitate development of a diverse, globally-engaged, science and engineering workforce.

Started in 1997, there are now over 150 IGERT programs at about 80 Universities around the country. Through the use of innovative curricula and internships, and by focusing on problem-centered training, these programs give their graduates the edge needed to become leaders in their chosen fields. Students accepted to this prestigious program receive support toward tuition, fees and research supplies, plus a sizeable stipend. For more information, see <http://www.igert.org/>

are off limits to you! And this land is off limits for the extraction of rich deposits.

People have a hard time imaging what Al Gore meant when he and later George Bush called for faith-based initiatives or partnerships. This means, causing the church to preach certain doctrines rooted in a political agenda - one that is not disclosed to the recipient. In Santa Cruz, my community, this is done by Alinsky-inspired operators who work the church with the help of a few over-eager pastors who are organized through an organization called COPA.

Here, a faith based political action group called Interfaith Light and Power works to indoctrinate church membership into the globalist political camp.

Coming soon: our Senior Savers workshop program to help those of us who are 55+ to save money and energy on utilities.

Colorado Interfaith Power and Light (CoIPL) provides support to individuals and congregations in their goal to be faithful stewards of God's creation. We encourage stewardship through the promotion of energy conservation, energy efficiency, renewable energy and making the commitment to sustainability. We seek to protect the earth's ecosystems, safeguard public health and ensure sufficient sustainable energy for all. Colorado Interfaith Power and Light is part of a nationwide Interfaith Power and Light movement, a campaign of The Regeneration Project.

What happens if people do nothing?

America becomes the land of the collected and home of the enslaved.

What can you do?

Organize.

Expose ICLEI – Traitorous? Inform and motivate residents in cities named earlier to take on their city fathers. Counter-action to ICLEI is, I believe, the 21st century ‘shot to be heard round the world’. Let Colorado become a model for beginning the restoration of America! Expose ICLEI! Visit Freedom Advocates. Org to study: the ICLEI Primer, The Consensus Process and Agenda 21.

The ICLEI primer now includes city Charter amendments and a sample city ordinance ridding your town of its ICLEI contract. You can find a lot valuable information at our home page. There is a very deep reservoir of information, documentation and tools needed to fight for America’s survival.

Organize to expose the connection between globalism and the Wildlands Network. Over time, we must cause the globalist concept of the Wildlands Network to be abandoned – consider the alternative.

Colorado urgently requires a new political direction with new political majorities. And you need them soon! Start at the local level. Think nationally, act locally.

Another thing you can do is to recognize and neuter local sovietization.

What does “Soviet” mean?

- A soviet is a system of councils that report to an apex council and implement a predetermined outcome, affecting a region or neighborhood often arranged through a process of facilitated consensus.
- Members of a soviet council are chosen by virtue of their willingness to comply with that outcome and their one-mindedness with the group
- Soviets are the operating mechanism of a government-controlled economy, whether it be socialism or public/private partnerships

How to fight back: Attend local soviet meetings held by the kinds of organizations that I am discussing this afternoon. If you attend, learn how to break the planned consensus meetings operated through “facilitation” with predetermined outcomes. This is a simple study and very effective technique. Information is available at Freedom Advocates.org regarding how a coordinated effort, undertaken by a few people, can break the local manufactured “consensus” that serves globalist objectives.

Neighborhood tools – have been developed to help regular people share the information produced by FA.

These are designed for wide distribution for purposes of creating an informed public. Sun Tzu informed us that you cannot defeat your enemy unless you understand him.

Distribute Understanding Sustainable Development Agenda 21. Let Common Sense prevail. Use our videos on Community TV, circulate FA audios. Understand Globalism –Agenda 21 Sustainable Development yourself and then widen the circle. Let our tools help you.

Let me show an illustration that captures the contrast between America and Globalism:

The modern war is between Globalism vs. America.

It is important that you prepare yourself.
My advice for ordinary people, understanding that there can always be exceptions, is:

- Have barter

- Have access to food, grow it, store it or become part of a food collective
 - Have personal defense
 - Get out of debt if you can
- And Join - in the defense of America!

Conclusion

The old expression and bumper sticker, "Think Global Act Local" can now take a meaning. This scheme has been in the works longer than any of us have been alive. Tony Blair is a former chairman of the British Fabian Society. George Bernard Shaw, a founding British Fabian Socialist said 'We will crawl like turtles for as long as it takes. When we see the finish line we will create a buzzing, whirling, confusion as we make our dash through the clearing as we get to the other side.' Ladies and Gentlemen, that whirling blast to the finish line is what has begun to happen now.

There is welcome news gathering from within. First the globalists are stumbling all over themselves, the Global Warming scam is crumbling, the fiscal and monetary situations are becoming understood more broadly and the pattern advancing globalism is becoming evident to many people.

For that welcome news to serve the interests of a free society, those who seek freedom must understand what we are fighting against, if we are to defeat the advance of tyranny. Understand Sustainable Development!

We must also know what we are fighting for. Good Neighbors defending each other coupled with a renewing dose of equal justice are just what America needs. I think that is called Good Neighbors Law!

Only by winning the war undertaken by the globalist machinery brought against the independence of this country and the independence of the individual, can we earn a second coming of America, the land of the brave and home to the free.

Thank you and may God Bless America.
