John R, we must stand together and take America back!

This latest election has taught us two vital lessons!

The first lesson is that the Left is organized and determined to take any action to gain and keep power. And they don't care what they have to do to get it - lie, cheat, steal.

The second lesson is that those of us who love our country and its long history of freedom have NOT prepared to preserve it. We have been caught by surprise at how totally entrenched these Leftist forces are in every community and at every level of government, they are fully prepared to take control.

Now we are faced with the frightening situation that we might lose this nation.

Let me give you just a brief idea of what we are facing unless we are able to stop them.

The Green New Deal is the Left's plan for controlling our future.

The GND would turn America's vast plains and open land into forests of wind turbines and solar panels. Millions of acres of farmland, wildlife habitat, and scenic areas would be blanketed by miles and miles of wind turbines and solar panels.

In your home, natural gas appliances would have to be replaced. Electrical power would only be there when it's available - not when you NEED it! And your gas-powered car would have to be replaced by a government mandated electric one - at your expense!

And don't forget, The Green New Deal will ban petroleum! Necessities like pharmaceuticals, cosmetics, paints, synthetic fibers, fertilizers, and plastics produced from petroleum would all be gone, along with the millions of jobs those industries provide. Not to mention that the cost energy will soar. Get ready for energy curfews and rationing!

Under the Green New Deal, Single-family homes and private property will be eliminated. Instead we will be forced into government built, high-density urban apartments with thousands of other people. This is already taking place in cities across the country.

The Left's open borders policy will allow anyone into our country without any due process – threatening our safety and way of life!

Worse, now with the COVID-19 lockdown, Leftist plans are moving even more rapidly to control and remove our freedoms as many small businesses, restaurants, and churches have been shut down.

If you are upset about the way you've had to live under the COVID-19 lockdowns, then you must understand this is how life is going to be under the Green New Deal rules.

The COVID-19 lockdown has been the master experiment to find out how much manipulation Americans will accept out of fear.

They call it the Great Green Reset, and the Left fully intends to see it completely enforced. Fear of more pandemics, caused by so-called environmental destruction, is the new tactic to destroy free enterprise, private property, and your ability to plan your own future.

The Left has had a pretty clear playing field for decades, without having to face much opposition from Americans.

They have managed to dig into to every corner of society and place their forces in even the smallest elected and appointed positions.

Ask yourself this question. When was the last time Republicans bothered to even think about the importance of positions like City, County, or State Attorney? Yet, today, these are the very officials who are enforcing COVID-19 lockdown rules.

After watching this election, don't you wish our side had been in charge of the local and state voter registration offices and the Board of Elections?

The Left thought of it and that effort allowed them to grab control of the ballot box.

The question now is how do you and I fight back to save America?

It's time for us to create a "Roadmap to Victory." What must we do to stop them?

Well, my American Policy Center (APC) has been thinking of little else this year and we have been preparing a comprehensive action plan for fighting back.

Most importantly - what I have learned from watching the COVID-19 lockdown is that the most effective way for us to fight to protect our freedoms is on the local level.

It was radical-left mayors and governors who enforced the most severe violations of our rights with store, restaurant, and church shutdowns, mandatory masks rules, and travel restrictions.

Most importantly, the radical left has spent their time during the lockdown training their activists to use the tactics they've learned to enforce the Green New Deal on the local level.

That's where they plan to hit us – and that's where you and I must be prepared to fight.

Here are things APC has already done to prepare for that fight.

First, APC has produced the most comprehensive local activist training Handbook ever produced to fight Agenda 21/Green New Deal policies on the local level.

Second, we have backed up the Handbook by producing a series of online-training webinars, featuring some of the nation's most effective activists. So far we have produced five webinars reaching over 30,000 activists online.

More webinars are now in the works. These will cover every issue from how to organize and research, to electing local officials, to how to take legal action against those who violate citizen rights and refuse to listen to those victims.

And one of the key issues we are going to focus on is how to prepare our own media sources to get our information passed the censorship of mainstream media and the social media giants. Their blackout of our side of the argument must end!

Along with the Handbook and webinars, APC has created what we call an online Tool Kit. This is where we place documents for research, details on issues, sample legislation, and reports of successful tactics from other activists. The Tool Kit is designed to keep all of our teaching and resources up to date as we progress.

And finally, APC is working with several key activists from across the country in preparation for an exciting new training conference to be held in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina in early 2021. More details on this event will be coming out, but I promise it will be the most effective training conference for organizing local activists ever presented. And it will all be video recorded so activists who can't attend will benefit.

My goal is to teach local citizens just like you how to take control of your own community – transform it into a “FREEDOM POD” where private property is protected, small businesses are helped to succeed, and citizens can live their own lives, secure and free of tyrannical government.

After fighting these battles for decades, I fully believe that if we can protect freedom in our own community, then those ideas and tactics will spread to the next community and the next, finally working its way up to the state legislature and then to the national level.

From the local level to the national – just as our founders intended.

That's a Freedom Pod! My American Policy Center is determined to win and defeat the forces of tyranny.

For too long our side has failed to do the “dirty work,” – local organization, creating an effective line of communication with government officials, and establishing a dedicated media source to carry that message.

We are going to change that. We must change it because we are fighting for the very survival of our nation that George Washington, John Adams, James Monroe, and Thomas Jefferson sacrificed so much to create for us.

I know that you are exhausted from the battles that we’ve been fighting for the past several years. I know that you have felt discouragement. And I know that you have given your financial support to the breaking point.

Frankly, I even hesitate to ask you to give more now. But I refuse to give up and surrender this country and our liberty to the tyrants who are determined to destroy it.

Will you fight them with me? I so hope you will use our training to help organize your local community into a Freedom Pod. But to make all of this happen I need the necessary financial support to pay for it. No other organization is working like APC to lead this fight for our country.

Please help with your most generous gift possible to APC. Without your support for this vital effort, it simply can’t happen.

I promise you that, with your support, I will not let you down. I want to win so we can all live in peace, in a life of our own making, just as our dedicated founders wanted for us.

If you are perhaps thinking that America is too far gone to save, think of this – think how most Americans felt the first time Sam Adams said “We are going to toss out the King!” Most thought he was a dangerous radical who was going to lead them to disaster. But he was right – and he won. SO WILL WE!

John R, let’s stand together and take America back!

Yours in Freedom,

Tom DeWeese

President

ABOUT THE AMERICAN POLICY CENTER

The American Policy Center is one of the original organizations to dedicate its mission to stopping the enforcement of Agenda 21 in order to preserve American property rights. APC President Tom DeWeese has traveled to nearly every state speaking out on the threat of UN Agenda 21/Sustainable Development Policy. He has testified before local and state elected officials, while appearing on countless national and local radio and television programs. He has written three books on the subject including the best-selling book Sustainable: The WAR on Free Enterprise, Private Property and Individuals, ERASE, a fictionalized political thriller that is being considered as a movie project, and his first book titled Now Tell Me I was Wrong, which details a wide variety of related issues including property rights, radical environmentalism, public education and personal privacy issues. In addition, DeWeese has written hundreds of articles that have been published in national and local publications reaching millions of readers. The American Policy Center reaches over 50,000 supporters through email and another 100,000 through direct mail. APC's website, www.americanpolicy.org, features one of the most detailed archives of articles on the subject and is visited by readers from almost every nation in the world.

APC has helped in winning several recent property rights battles including stopping three National Heritage Area land-grabs in Virginia, Colorado and Louisiana. Local activists educated by APC were able to lead the fight in a small town in Alabama called Bayou-La Batre, where the city council voted 5-0 to stop an Agenda 21 inspired Eco-tourism scheme that would have destroyed property rights and local industry. The National Republican Party used APC materials to prepare and include an anti-Agenda 21 plank in its platform. The State of Alabama used APC materials to become the first state in the nation to pass legislation to ban Agenda 21. APC is now working with both landlord and cattleman associations across the nation to stop the destruction of these vital industries. Activists in Denmark have produced several anti-Agenda 21 videos featuring APC materials, including distributing Tom DeWeese's Book, Sustainable to Denmark's Prime Minister and to every Mayor in Denmark. A senator in Australia has used APC materials to build opposition in their country. In Brazil, APC materials have been translated to Portuguese and widely distributed to help build a large opposition in their country.

In the U.S., APC is creating a series of training seminars for state and local elected officials to help them network and oppose Sustainable policies, restore property rights, and reduce the size and reach of government.
