

Death By Government

Governments have killed 680.5 million people in the last 100 years by my calculations. This dwarfs any real or nonsense numbers on global warming, sustaining development, smart growth, welfare, Medicare, social security, you name your pet government program to save the people. Government does not save or help anybody. They kill people.

Government is not the solution to our problems, the poor, the handicapped, the mentally ill, the environment, labor, education, or any social, economic problem, you can dream up. All government is ultimately destructive, especially when tyranny is used against the natural born and rightfully naturalized state Citizens.

I challenge you to this bazaar thought. Why do we need any government, when they kill our freedoms one way or another. Governments of any form kill free people and individual freedom sooner or later, i.e. they broker your rights for their power and profit. If this sounds insane to you, welcome to the first freeing thought you probably ever had about government. Governments kill people, kill our freedoms and pervert the laws of the land. They take away your fundamental and founding unalienable rights, freedoms and liberties. Political parties are not the answer; they are the problem.

Freedom is being hung while attempting to desert in America. The answer to freedom is no government or limited government at the most. If you have to have it because it makes you feel good, then consider only a very limited government as the Founding Fathers intended. They knew how power corrupts absolutely. American current government is the Founding Fathers worse nightmare, come true. A free republic has become oppressive tyrannical and socialistic in only 230 years because our freedoms have been traded to people who refuse to earn their freedoms.

Now we can better see how we have lost all of our unalienable rights including our property rights.

Wake up America. Your freedom is in the noose on the gallows of government extremism. The trap door your feet stand on, are the doors to all levels of government. Both parties and their pandering benefiting non government groups (NGO's) are eager to open the trap door for you. They want your freedom more than you do. For God sake stand up and fight.

Wake up America.
